Kütahya is a city where the secret of fire and soil has been kept for centuries. The ambience of the city is magical and the culture is so untouched and needs to be discovered even for the dwellers.

On October 31st 2017, we started the next chapter in our City’s history. Kütahya -famous for its production of Çini- was designated a UNESCO Creative City in the field of Crafts and Folk Arts. Within the framework of the implementation of the United Nations 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development, Kütahya has the chance to demonstrate culture’s role as an enabler for becoming a sustainable city. The goals, objectives and actions presented in this Agenda will guide Creative City of Kütahya to overcome new challenges and celebrate new achievements to become more resilient.

A prosperous and more resilient city doesn’t come from preparing a plan itself, indeed, it is about pursuing and following the necessities of the plan. That is why, over the last two years, we have been committed to building relationships with cities around the globe intelligently and effectively. Today, we all see Creative City of Kütahya is praised as a nationally acclaimed leader in creative industries. Every day, I am inspired by the people of Kütahya - their passion for the community, commitment to building our city and spirit of generosity. We are blessed to have artists who devote their energy and enthusiasm, representing Kütahya at home and abroad. I am proud and honored to be part of such a wonderful community.

Together, we can keep doing the best for our city and the whole humanity.

Sincerely,
Kamil Saraçoğlu
Mayor, Kütahya

MAJOR ACTIVITIES

Coordination Council and Executive Committee Meetings

"A very important achievement has been made, but the designation of Kütahya as a UNESCO Creative City and the attributes bring great responsibilities. The designation of Kütahya is not a final destination, yet a beginning."

Believing the critical significance of reflecting interest and perspectives of all relevant communities, Kütahya City has formed 2 different consultation and executive groups. As adopted during the designation process, the inclusive approach to city’s understanding of UCCN process has continued also after the designation. The aim of these two groups is to discuss action plans and the development regarding the implementation process and to design short and long term goals to contribute. In this context, 4 Coordination Council meetings and 2 Executive Committee meetings were held in Kütahya during 2018. All committee members representing local governments and artists attended to these meetings. More importantly, they all actively contributed and showed strong interest in Kütahya’s contribution to UCCN mission and vision. The local actors create strong coordination and synergies with the relevant stakeholders in creating good practices in the field of Crafts and Folk Arts.

“Ahmet Yakupoğlu was known as the Last ‘Polymath’ of the 21st century.”
Çini Artist Catalog Publication

Recognizing the need of gaining more knowledge about the careers of Çini artists and examples of their art pieces in the community, Zafer Development Agency responded this need by launching “Those Adding Value to Kütahya” artist catalog publication in the late 2018. The catalog which has been published in 6 languages, showcases the background stories and visual productions of the artists based in Kütahya.

“Thanks to its cultural and historical values, Kütahya is the only city in Turkey that deserves the title of Craft and Traditional Folk Arts City. Kütahya’s membership for being a Creative City of Crafts and Folk Art of the UNESCO Creative Cities Network has been approved in 2017. Çini art has been inscribed on the List of Intangible Cultural Heritage by UNESCO in 2016. Certainly, Kütahya has been the hometown of the Çini art since the 14th century. In addition to Çini art, many traditional arts are also performed in Kütahya. Although the Craft and Traditional Folk Arts constitute an organic part of the socio-cultural and economic design, they are also the foundations for the city’s sustainable development strategies. This catalog was prepared for the Çini artists of the Ministry of Culture and Tourism who have played a crucial role for the development of the city and earning the title of UNESCO Creative Cities Network. The catalog includes short biographies of contemporary artists performing the Çini art, one of the most elegant traditions of Turkish-Islamic civilization, as well as visuals of some of their works. The purpose of this catalog is to introduce the Çini artists of the Ministry of Culture and Tourism since they have a great role to play for passing this know-how to younger generations. We would like to thank and express our gratitude to the contemporary Çini artists that are included in the list as well as all Çini artists since they passed this 700-year-old cultural heritage to us.”
