Report of the Intergovernmental Committee for the Protection and Promotion of the Diversity of Cultural Expressions on its activities and decisions to the Conference of Parties

Background

1. The Intergovernmental Committee for the Protection and Promotion of the Diversity of Cultural Expressions (hereinafter referred to as “the Committee”) is composed of representatives of 24 States Parties to the Convention on the Protection and Promotion of the Diversity of Cultural Expressions (hereinafter referred to as “the Convention”), elected by the Conference of Parties for a term of four years, in accordance with the principles of equitable geographical representation and of rotation. The Intergovernmental Committee meets annually and may meet in extraordinary session at the request of at least two thirds of its members to discuss specific issues.

2. The responsibilities and functions of the Committee (Article 23 of the Convention) include, among others:

- promoting the objectives of the Convention as well as monitoring its implementation;
- preparing operational guidelines for the implementation of the provisions of the Convention;
- transmitting to the Conference of Parties the quadrennial periodic reports submitted by Parties, including comments and summaries;
- establishing procedures and other mechanisms for consultation aimed at promoting the objectives and principles of the Convention in other international forums;
- taking decisions on funding requests under the International Fund for Cultural Diversity;
- inviting, at any time, public or private organizations or individuals to participate in its meetings for consultation on specific issues.

3. The annual sessions of the Committee are forums for discussion and decision-making, where Members meet to decide on the implementation of the Convention. These working sessions allow them to exchange views on the priorities decided by the Conference of Parties and to make important decisions, enabling the Parties to implement the Convention at the national level and to fulfil their obligations. The Committee’s report on its activities and decisions thus enables the Conference of Parties to be informed of the work accomplished by the Committee. The Committee’s work is guided by a work plan based on the resolutions approved by the Conference of Parties since its last session and in relation to the expected results of the Programme and Budget (C/5) adopted by the General Conference. The report describes the activities carried out by the Committee and the decisions it has taken in the past two years since the last Conference of Parties.

4. At its sixth session (12-15 June 2017), the Conference of Parties elected 12 members to the Committee in accordance with Rule 16 of the Rules of Procedure of the Conference of Parties.

Activities of the Committee since the sixth session of the Conference of Parties (12-15 June 2017)

8. Since the sixth session of the Conference of Parties (June 2017), and in accordance with Article 23.6 (b), (e) and (f) of the Convention, with the activities and priorities defined by the Conference of Parties (Resolution 6.CP.12) and with the work plan for the activities of the Committee (2018- 2019) (Annex to Decision 11.IGC 5), the main activities and decisions of the Committee have focused on:

- implementing the global capacity-building strategy;
- implementing the International Fund for Cultural Diversity, its fundraising and communication strategy, and review of the results of the second external evaluation;
- continuing its policy monitoring activities to assess the impact of the Convention through the collection and analysis of data, information and best practices based on the Parties' quadrennial periodic reports and other sources, and sharing the results through the publication of a quadrennial or biennial Global Report, and through a global knowledge management system. Particular attention will be paid to the monitoring of the impact of Articles 16 and 21;
- revision of the Operational Guidelines on Article 9 “Information sharing and transparency” including the Annex on the framework for the quadrennial periodic reports;
- establishment of a road map to implement the Operational Guidelines on the Convention in the digital environment;

- support for civil society participation in the work of the Convention’s governing bodies and establishment of a stakeholder outreach strategy;
- furthering synergies to monitor policies and measures related to the 1980 Recommendation concerning the Status of the Artist through a global survey launched in 2018.

9. The table below presents the priority activities defined by the Conference of Parties at its sixth session (June 2017), the activities and decisions implemented by the Committee at its eleventh session, in accordance with its work plan, as well as the challenges experienced by the Committee during their implementation, where applicable.

Conclusion and future stages

10. The table shows that most of the activities requested by the Conference of Parties have been implemented by the Committee and that the necessary decisions have been adopted, in accordance with its work plan. However, the implementation of certain decisions is still pending. This was the case, for example, when the Committee invited Parties to provide extrabudgetary contributions for IFCD project monitoring and evaluation or to support the participation of civil society in statutory meetings and the Civil Society Forum (June 2019). To date, no additional or extra-budgetary resources have been raised for such activities.

11. The major challenge for the Committee is to ensure the sustainability of the International Fund for Cultural Diversity. For years, the Secretariat has been drawing the attention of the Committee and the Parties to the difficult situation facing the Fund. In response to the growing demand in terms of funding requests and limited supply, with five to seven projects financed per year, there is a need to find ways to ensure a sustainable flow of contributions from Parties. As highlighted in the document on the IFCD (see document DCE/18/12. IGC/5a) if all Parties paid their contributions regularly, the Fund would have a budget of over $2 million per year. As a result, the number of projects funded by the IFCD would at least be doubled.

12. Furthermore, in order to facilitate the organization of the statutory meetings of Culture Conventions in a more efficient manner, and in line with the recommendations of the open-ended Working Group on Governance, Procedures and Working Methods of the Governing Bodies of UNESCO (39 C/Resolution 87), the Committee invites the Conference of Parties to move the timing of its session forward by two months. This means that the date of the sessions of the Committee, usually held in December, would be moved to be held during the second week of February (see Document DCE/18/12.IGC/13).
