POLICIES AND MEASURES

Policies and measures may be understood as those that nurture creativity, form part of an enabling environment for independent producers and distributors as well as those that provide access to the public at large to diverse cultural expressions. They may be regulatory or legislative, action or programme oriented, institutional or financial measures. They may be specifically introduced to address the special circumstances and needs of individuals (e.g. women, young people) or groups (e.g. minorities, indigenous peoples) as creators, producers or distributors of cultural expressions.

Users will have to fill in the measures adopted and implemented concerning:

- Cultural Policies (up to 10 measures)
  Parties shall provide information on policies and measures adopted to protect and promote the diversity of cultural expressions within their territory, at the national, regional or local levels at the different stages of the cultural value chain, namely:
  - creation
  - production
  - distribution / dissemination
  - participation / enjoyment.

For more information on the types of measures to be reported on, please refer to Article 6, “Rights of Parties at the National Level”, and the Operational Guidelines adopted on Article 7 on “Measures to Promote Cultural Expressions”.

- International Cultural Cooperation (up to 6 measures)
  Parties shall provide information on measures aimed at facilitating international cultural cooperation. Measures may be understood as international cultural cooperation frameworks and programme activities that:
  - facilitate dialogue between public officials on policy issues;
  - promote exchange between professionals working in public sector cultural institutions aimed at building strategic and management capacities;
  - foster cooperation between professionals working in the cultural and creative industries aimed at building creation and production capacities.

For more information on the types of measures to be reported on, please refer to Article 12 “Promotion of International Cooperation”.

- Preferential Treatment (up to 6 measures)
  Parties shall provide information on measures aimed at granting preferential treatment as defined in Article 16 of the Convention and benefiting from it.

  Article 16 on Preferential Treatment for Developing Countries stipulates that preferential treatment to be granted by developed to developing countries, through appropriate legal and institutional frameworks to achieve, inter alia, the emergence of a dynamic cultural sector in developing countries and wider and more balanced cultural exchanges. Preferential treatment as defined by Article 16 is understood as having both a cultural and/or a trade component.

  Preferential treatment provision of the Convention creates an obligation for developed countries in favor of developing countries with regard to persons (artists) and cultural professionals) and cultural goods and services.

  In this light, preferential treatment measures can be reported as having an impact on three different levels:
  - individual: human resource development, including programmes to facilitate the mobility and exchange of artists and cultural professionals and build expertise among them;
  - institutional or organizational: building capacities of cultural enterprises and organizations in promoting the economic and trade dimension of the sector, including support schemes and co-distribution agreements;
  - industry-wide: systemic relationships established through bilateral, regional and multilateral trade agreements, cultural policy and other frameworks.

  PARTIES FROM DEVELOPED COUNTRIES describe the measures they have adopted to grant preferential treatment to artists and other cultural professionals and practitioners, as well as cultural goods and services from developing countries.

  PARTIES FROM DEVELOPING COUNTRIES describe the measures they have adopted to identify their priorities, specific needs and interests, and enhance their benefit from preferential treatment. These Parties will also report on the preferential treatment measures they have taken to promote South-South cooperation.

For any question please contact reports2005@unesco.org
Integration of Culture in Sustainable Development Policies

Parties are invited to list here the measures that focus on integrating culture as a strategic element in sustainable development policies and assistance programmes at the national and international levels. Typically, these measures are implemented by agencies responsible for economic growth, environmental sustainability and social inclusion (national level) and by development cooperation agencies (international level). Operational Guidelines on Article 13 define sustainable development as "development that meets the needs of the present without compromising the ability of future generations to meet their own needs" (Ref. Report of the World Commission on Environment and Development, 1987). It is understood that sustainable development policies are to be formulated, adopted and implemented with relevant authorities responsible for the economy, environment, social affairs and culture. Measures to be reported on this section should take this interrelatedness into account.

- at National level (up to 6 measures)
  Please describe the measures taken with a view to achieving the following goals and outcomes:
  - integrating culture into overall national development planning, i.e., strategies, policies and action plans;
  - achieving economic, social and environmental outcomes by integrating culture into, inter alia, poverty eradication, social inclusion, education and training strategies;
  - securing fairness and equitable treatment of disadvantaged individuals and social groups (including women) to participate in cultural life;
  - securing equity in the distribution of cultural resources between regions and urban and rural areas.
  <ADD MEASURE>

- at International Level (up to 6 measures)
  Please describe the measures taken to integrate culture in regional / international development assistance frameworks, policies and programmes (including South-South cooperation) to support the emergence of dynamic creative sectors in developing countries through:
  - strengthening human and institutional capacities for policy development and entrepreneurship through training, networking, exchange of information, etc.;
  - transfer of technology and expertise in the areas of cultural industries and enterprises: needs analysis, access to new information and communication technologies, development of new platforms, etc.;
  - financial support: contribution to the IFCD, integration of the cultural sector within framework plans for official development assistance (ODA), facilitating access of the cultural industries
  <ADD MEASURE>

Emerging Transversal Issues: Resolution 5.CP 9b (at least one measure)

In this section, Parties report on the emerging transversal issue(s) identified by the governing bodies of the Convention for each reporting cycle. A resolution of the Conference of Parties will determine the transversal issue(s) to be reported on for each four-year reporting cycle. At its fifth ordinary session (July 2015), the Conference of Parties (Res. 5CP 9b) decided that "Parties may select freely the themes relevant to the Convention that they want to address in transversal issues during the 2016-2019 cycle", and invited Parties "to pay particular attention to issues identified in prior resolutions and decisions in relation to periodic reporting such as digital issues and public service broadcasting".

<ADD MEASURE>

Gender Equality (at least one measure)

Gender equality is UNESCO global priority for the 2014-2017 Programme and Budget period. According to Article 7 of the Convention, Parties are encouraged to "pay due attention to the special circumstances and needs of women". Such attention means adopting and implementing policies and measures designed to support women as creators and producers of cultural expressions, and as citizens participating in cultural life. In order to achieve this, an integrated policy response through legislative, regulatory and institutional measures may be required.

<ADD MEASURE>

Youth (at least one measure)

Empowering young people and promoting the participation of youth in the implementation of the Convention is in line with the UNESCO Operational Strategy 2016-2021 for Youth. In this section, Parties describe at least one policy, measure or project to, for example:

- encourage the participation of youth as creators, producers and beneficiaries of cultural activities, goods and services;
- facilitate the involvement of youth and youth-led organizations and the integration of their concerns and needs in cultural policy-making processes;
- introduce new curricula or programmes in higher education and training institutions to build new skills required for the cultural and creative industries including entrepreneurial, management and technological skills;
- involve youth in collecting and disseminating information about the diversity of cultural expressions in their communities.
