Terrorism is such a great curator.

Head of Buddha
Afghanistan, 3rd–4th century A.D.
This antiquity belongs to the National Museum of Afghanistan. The Taliban smashed a large part of the museum’s collection, and local dealers smuggled this priceless item into the international market. Thousands of looted objects from the museum are still missing.

Know the real price of art.