I. Hague Convention of 1954

1. Article 3 - Safeguarding of cultural property

This article sets out the obligation for High Contracting Parties to adopt in time of peace the appropriate safeguarding measures against the foreseeable effects of an armed conflict.

Have you adopted such measures?

Yes. As Thailand is a High Contracting Party of the Convention, the Royal Thai Armed Forces follows the measures provided by the Convention by issuing orders directing all services to comply with the Convention. Such measures focus on personnel training, courses regarding the Convention, legal issues and appropriate conducts provided by services' military schools, in order to ensure that the Thai military personnel act complies with the Convention.

2. Article 7 - Military measures

This article sets out the obligations of High Contracting Parties to introduce into their military regulations or instructions such provisions as may ensure observance of the Convention. As well as the preparation or establishment, within their armed forces, of services or specialist personnel whose purpose will be to secure respect for cultural property and to co-operate with the civilian authorities responsible for safeguarding it. These obligations must be implemented in time of peace.

Have you introduced into your military regulations or instructions such provisions as may ensure observance of the Convention?

If this information is available in a previously submitted report, you may refer to it.

Yes. Military orders regarding the use of force and weapons for trainings and operations specify provisions on how to take care of the cultural properties and punishment if any violation occurs. Moreover, the Rules of Engagement of the Royal Thai Armed Forces prohibits targeting the cultural properties. Violation of such Rules of Engagement is subjected to be punished.

Have you established within your armed forces, services whose purpose will be to secure respect for cultural property?

The Thai Armed Forces issued the Supreme Command Headquarter order number 104/2505, on 21 June 1962, instructing all services to appoint agencies and specialist personnel to undertake the services' obligation on cultural property, to co-operate with the relevant civilian authorities and to co-ordinate with the Directorate of Joint Operations, which is appointed to supervise and to control undertaking in accordance with the Convention.

The Royal Thai Army issued the Army order No.197/10959, on 27 August 1962, in regard to the implementation Training on Convention for the Protection of Cultural Property in the Event of Armed Conflict and Establishment Personnel who is Director of Military History Division, Directorate of Operations. The appointed personnel are in charge of coordinate with the specialist personnel of the Royal Thai Armed Forces Headquarters on the issue. The order also mentioned the obligation to protect the cultural property at the division level belongs to the historical museum officer or the storekeeper of the division. At the battalion level, the operation officer is responsible for the appointment.

The Royal Thaï Navy issued orders requesting the Royal Thai Navy schools includes the Naval Command and General Staff College to deal with courses and lessons which is supervised by Naval Education Department. The History and Museum Division, directed by the Chief of Museum Division, belongs to the Naval Education Department was also established as well.
The Royal Thai Air Force issued orders to establish the History and Museum Division which is under the Administrative Services. The division is in charge of Royal Thai Air Forces museum and the history of the service.

All these orders are subjected to review by relevant authorities as appropriate.

3. Use of the distinctive emblem to indicate cultural property (Chapter V)

The Hague Convention of 1954 created a distinctive emblem for the exclusive marking of cultural property with the aim of ensuring its recognition, particularly in the event of armed conflict. The marking of cultural property constitutes one of the preparatory measures that may be taken in time of peace.

Have you indicated cultural property through the use of the distinctive emblem of the Convention?

Yes. The Royal Thai Armed Forces and all services, namely the Royal Thai Army, the Royal Thai Navy and the Royal Thai Air force, have produced the distinctive emblem for the cultural property in accordance with Article 16 of the Convention to facilitate its recognition in the event of armed conflict.

4. Article 25 – Dissemination of the Convention

The regulations relating to the protection of cultural property in time of war must be incorporated into programmes for military, and where possible, civil training. The aim is to ensure that the principles of the Convention are made known to the whole population, and especially the armed forces and personnel engaged in the protection of cultural property.

Have you disseminated the provisions of the Convention within the armed forces as well as among target groups and the general public?

Yes. The Royal Thaï Armed Forces has widely disseminated the convention to the military personnel and civilians by publishing manual for the military units. Moreover, each military service has produced document and lessons for its subordinate units and schools to be used. The Royal Thaï Army issued the Army order No. 197/10959, on 27 August 1962, in regard to the Implementation Training on Convention for the Protection of Cultural Property in the Event of Armed Conflict and Establishment of Specialist Personnel.

Within this framework, what awareness-raising activities have you organized, and what awareness-raising activities do you plan to organize in the future? Please indicate the target groups for each activity.

Courses provided by services have emphasized personnel and students to realize the importance of the cultural property and the implementation of the Convention. In doing so, field trip such as military museum, historical places, ancient sites and cultural property abject are provided.

5. Article 26 (1) – Official translations

The Secretariat has received a certain number of official translations of the Convention and of the Regulations for its execution. For reference, please consult:

Does your country have its national translation(s) there?

Yes. The Thai Government already translated the Convention and made available to the general public. The translation is disseminated to the military units as well.

6. Article 28 – Sanctions
This article sets out the obligations of High Contracting Parties to take, within the framework of their ordinary criminal jurisdiction, all necessary steps to prosecute and impose penal or disciplinary sanctions upon those persons, of whatever nationality, who commit or order to be committed a breach of the Convention.

VII. Granting of enhanced protection – Opinion Survey

Pursuant to Chapter 3 of the 1999 Second Protocol, enhanced protection is granted by the Committee for the Protection of Cultural Property in the Event of Armed Conflict if three conditions are cumulatively met:

- The cultural property is of the greatest importance for humanity;
- The cultural property is protected by adequate domestic legal and administrative measures recognizing its exceptional cultural and historic value and ensuring the highest level of protection; and,
- The cultural property is not used for military purposes or to shield military sites, and the Party which has control over it has made a declaration that it will not be used for such purposes.

As these conditions are set out within the framework of an international treaty, their full understanding cannot be separated from state practice, which is of fundamental importance with regard to the International Law of treaties. As such, this national report is an opportunity for the national authorities of the Parties to express their views on the conditions under which enhanced protection is granted.

For each of the conditions set out in Article 10 of the Second Protocol, please answer the following questions, taking into account the relevant paragraphs of the Guidelines for the Implementation of the Second Protocol.

- Article 10, paragraph (a) – "Greatest importance for humanity"

  No answer.

- Article 10, paragraph (b) – "Highest level of protection"

  No answer.

- Article 10, paragraph (c) – "Non-use for military purposes"

Please indicate the national authorities to be consulted with a view to taking the decision not to use the cultural property submitted for the granting of enhanced protection for military purposes or to shield military sites.

No answer.
