A. Context

Background and Context

The Better Education for Africa’s Rise (BEAR) II project is a joint initiative between UNESCO and the Republic of Korea to support the improvement of the Technical and Vocational education and Training (TVET) systems in five beneficiary countries in Eastern Africa (Ethiopia, Kenya, Madagascar, the United Republic of Tanzania and Uganda) over 2017–21. The project has been conceptualized in response to each target country’s needs based on national development plans and national education and training strategic plans. The project is also aligned with the 2030 Education Agenda and the UNESCO Strategy for TVET 2016–21, including the Mahe Process and Continental Education Strategy for Africa. This second phase of the BEAR project builds on the BEAR I project (2011-2016) that has yielded positive and sustainable outcomes in five countries of the Southern Africa Development Community (SADC), namely Botswana, Democratic Republic of the Congo, Malawi, Namibia and Zambia. BEAR II aims to give young people in Eastern Africa a better chance of accessing decent employment or of generating self-employment, through improvements in the TVET systems of the beneficiary countries while adopting a sector skills approach. A broad range of activities will be conducted under the framework of the project, corresponding to the following three result areas:

(i) increasing the relevance of TVET to the needs of the economy by developing training curriculums to respond to market demand of skills;

(ii) enhancing the quality of TVET delivered to trainees by building capacities of TVET trainers and institutions, and

(iii) Improving the perception of TVET among young people, enterprises and society, therefore making it a more appealing education option.

The Eastern African context for BEAR II intervention

The activities of the BEAR II project will concentrate in five Eastern African countries: Ethiopia, Kenya, Madagascar, the United Republic of Tanzania and Uganda. The broader context in the African region and current processes for strengthening TVET in Eastern Africa have informed the design of the project activities.

Largely, the five Eastern African countries selected for the BEAR II project face some common issues and challenges in the TVET sector. In response to these challenges, the BEAR II project aims to support the beneficiary countries to reform and develop their TVET systems. In addition, the project will capitalize on the valuable knowledge and experiences gained from the BEAR I project that addressed similar issues in the Southern African region.

To achieve these specified objectives, the BEAR II project adopts a sector skills development approach by targeting specific sectors in each beneficiary country. The sectors were identified and selected in agreement with the national governments and other key stakeholders and reflect the strategic priorities in each country where Agro-processing sector is the focus in the case of Ethiopia.
