1. The United Nations Organizations, development banks and other multilateral organizations, should continue to promote initiatives promoting the Culture of Peace as an indispensable element in support of governments’ efforts in the pursuit of inclusive and sustainable socio-economic development;

2. The private sector is urged to expand its collaboration with the public sector, strengthening thereby public-private partnerships and reinforce in particular the collaboration with UNESCO, to facilitate the implementation of innovative and comprehensive programmes for the promotion of the Culture of Peace.

3. African governments are urged to enable political and legal ecosystems favorable to the promotion and development of cultural and social entrepreneurship of young people, young women, and indigenous peoples, and to the contribution of artists to the construction of peace in view of opportunities offered by arts in the support of African reconciliation and unity.
