How would you define the stakeholder community or communities to which you belong?

Individual capacity

Are there any suggestions that you wish to make in respect of the proposed themes, questions and indicators which are included in the framework as it stands?

I suggest two new indicators:

- Are there any state run programs to make available the documents stored on analogue media in memory institutions (libraries, museums, archives and audiovisual archives) in digitized format through the public Internet or through dedicated networks?
- Is there a national internet archive (webarchive) for long-term preservation of public online content and for research purposes?
