Name:Chris Anderson

How would you define the stakeholder community or communities to which you belong?

Individual capacity

Are there any suggestions that you wish to make in respect of the proposed themes, questions and indicators which are included in the framework as it stands?

I think the draft looks excellent, and I don't have any meaningful changes I might advocate for. Of course, there are inevitable internal contradictions to some of the goals here, and I would be curious to know how you might try to address these when actually implementing the evaluation process. For instance- there is an inherent tension between a digital right to privacy and journalists ability to gather the information they need in order to properly exercise their oversight function. Especially in the era of big data analysis, there is often a journalistic advantage (in terms of government accountability) to the capacity to analyze large amounts of publicly available data. How do we manage this tension. This is just one example of course.

In any case, looking forward to discussing this further.
