OVERVIEW

- Why a Global Recognition Convention?
- The process to date
- The Drafting Committee
- Results of the initial first round of consultation with Member States
- A few points to highlight
- Next steps
Why a Global Recognition Convention...?

- Open and Fair Recognition of Qualifications as a universal right
- International coherence in recognition processes
- Recognition across regions.
- Recognition as an enabler for quality enhancement of higher education
- Raising the profile and importance of recognition

... more than just recognition at stake
The process to date

- Nov 2011: International Conference of States, Tokyo
- 2012: Feasibility study
- Oct 2012: International Experts’ Meeting, Nanjing
- Nov 2013: General Conference requests Preliminary Report
- Nov 2015: General Conference endorses the Preliminary Report and requests DG to establish a Drafting Committee
- May 2016–June 2017: Four Drafting Committee meetings
- May–June 2017: Initial Consultation round with Member States

UNESCO: Education Sector
The Drafting Committee

- The Committee consists of 23 experts from all UNESCO regions, appointed by the Director-General of UNESCO in coordination with Member States.
- 3 experts nominated by each of the 6 Electoral Groups and 5 nominated directly by the DG.
- All serve on the Committee in their private capacity.
Results of the initial first round of consultations with Member States

- Questionnaire sent to all UNESCO Members States, containing 7 questions on the draft convention’s sections and likelihood to accept the current text for adoption: Preamble, Definition of Terms, Aims of the Convention, Basic Principles, Obligations of the Parties, Implementation Mechanisms, Final Clauses

- In addition to the questionnaire, MS were also encouraged to provide comments and amendments.

- Responses received from 39 Member States in all UNESCO regions, including comprehensive comments.
Most Member States “Strongly Agree” or “Agree” on all sections, while some have responded “Neutral” on Obligations and Implementation Mechanisms
9 Member States state that they are “Very Likely” to accept the text for adoption, while 22 respond “Likely”; 5 respond “Somewhat Likely”, 1 “Unlikely” and 2 “Do Not Know”
Outcomes of the 4th and Final Drafting Committee Meeting 28-30 June 2017

• The Drafting Committee considered Member States’ views on the main elements of the draft convention text resulting from the initial, first round of consultations.

• The Committee reviewed the entire text and endorsed a preliminary draft.

• The preliminary draft together with a progress report on the work on the convention will examined by the Executive Board (Oct. 2017) and later the General Conference (Nov. 2017).
A few points to highlight

- The future Global Convention will NOT imply automatic recognition
- The draft text of the Convention will not be submitted for adoption before 2019
- The Regional Conventions will continue being binding
Next steps

- October 2017: the preliminary draft of the convention text together with proposed modalities of further consultations with Member States and relevant stakeholders will be examined by the Executive Board.

- November 2017: these documents will then be submitted to the General Conference of UNESCO.

- Jan–Sept 2018: the Secretariat will propose to the General Conference to undertake throughout 2018 wide consultations with a view to revisit, refine and update the text.
